Are nerve diseases, and unless cherked, lead to destruction of both mind and body. The weak, shattered nerves must have something to strengthen and build them back to health. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a remarkable nerve tonic and stimulant. It strengthens the nerves, relieves the nervous strain, and influences refreshing body-building sleep and rest. Persistent use seldom fails to relieve these afflictions.

eleven in has than 12 hours. My father sent for our family physician, but he could do very little for me, and I grew worse every day, and at last they had three doctors with me, and I still got worse. My father heard of Dr. Miles' medicines and bought a bottle of Nervine and a box of Nerve and Liver Pills. I had taken only a few doses until I began to feel better. I took 12 bottles, and it cured me sound and well. It has been worth all the world to me. I recommend it wherever I go. You may use this as a life-long testimonial to the merits of your medicine, for I am enjoying the best of health, and feel that my life and health is due to this wonderful medicine."

Possession of Divine Gift Interferes with the Ties of Family Affection.

"Down to Gehenna, or up to the throne, he travels the fastest who travels alone," is the philosophy of Kipling. Jasche Brou, son of a Rus sian Jew, a great violinist, though a mere boy, is being made to feel the application of that philosophy. His gray-bearded father is no fonder of Jasche than Jasche is of him. Yet Therefore, most of it is good the contract for Jasche's appearance at concerts in this country, which was signed in London, provides that the father shall keep away from the boy till the series of concerts is ended.

Unable to speak English, lonely and disconsolate, the old man seems to have brooded over being left to himself. With the strong family affection so marked in his race he could not struggle. He took a second cabin passage on the same ship with Jasche. He hid when the youngster was lookrunning through it which divides his caution gave way. He rushed up oak paneling, the house was splendid. Sale. it into two farms of about 125 to the genius and embraced him. The manager, who was there, protested. His father's presence at a concert would make Jasche nervous. The boy knew it. Finally the father agreed to by seeking to hear his son play. It is a hard thing to be barred by the demands of genius from the ties of family affection. But genius must travel alone, and Jasche Bron must not be hampered by his gray-bearded guard. The appeal against loading is made in the following remarkable offices to his will:

"I desire to bring home to minds of my sons, and of each and every young man who may hereafter take benefit in my property under this my will, how strongly I hold to the view that every man should, during some substantial portion of his life, have some definite occupation, and lead a useful life, and should not suffer wealth or any accession of wealth or other temptation to tempt him into idleness, and a mere loafing and useless existence.

"I might have so framed this my ferred on my sons or other young men in my property, but I foresee that such a provision might, in certain hope and to trust, as I do, that no son of mine and no other young man who may under this my will succeed to the enjoyment of any property of mine, will so disregard my views here-GENIUS MUST TRAVEL ALONE in expressed as to lead the life I so strongly deprecate."

Col. Tufnell himself always led a strouvous life. He saw active service in the Nile expedition of 1884-5, when serving in the Eighteenth Royal Irish Regiment.-London Express.

NOT IN LINE WITH PROGRESS

Professor's Experience Aptly Illustrates Difference Between Old and New Worlds.

Prof. George Loeb Grinnell, the noted western etymologist, said in the course of a recent address before a congress of librarians in Wichita:

"My recent English tour has convinced me that we Americans write better English and speak better English than our friends overseas." He smiled.

"Yes," he said, "we excel the English in the use of the language as we excel them in the use of plumbing. expire. I visited an old manor house in Derbyshire one day, that was for rent at ing his way.
